VOLUME 11

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY NOVEMBER 5, 1904.

NUMBER 34

SENATOR ANDREWS AND PARTY HERE

The Andrews special train, which has been touring the territory the past few weeks, arrived here from the north at noon today, and was at once attracted to its local headquarters.

On the train were Senator W. B. Andrews, the republican candidate for delegate to congress; Hon. M. A. Otero, governor of the territory; Hon. A. L. Morrison, the United States internal revenue collector for New Mexico and Arizona; Colonel George W. Prichard, Jose D. Santa, Irenio L. Chaves, A. M. Berio, Dr. George W. Harrison, W. A. Boyer, W. Adams, Mrs. Maria F. Hilday, and a number of other friends.

At Los Alamos, Hon. Johnson, Lema and Mr. and Mrs. Hilday, New Mexico, accompanied Senator Andrews to this city.

Political meetings have been held the past few days at Farmington, Las Cruces, Hillsboro, San Marcial, Moriarty and other places, and Senator Andrews feels confident that he can win votes, not only for himself, but for the republican ticket of the territory, by the visit of the campaign party.

At the private car this afternoon local republican politicians called on Senator Andrews and wished him success.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock Governor Otero, Colonel Prichard, Jose D. Santa and James Hilday, in a two-story carriage drove up to Los Alamos, where a big meeting was held.

Dr. Harrison and A. M. Berio left for the mountains, and a big meeting and a ball will be held at Moriarty tonight.

The party will go up to Santa Fe tomorrow morning, where a big meeting of republicans will be held in the evening. On Saturday, Senator Andrews will go to Espanola, where a meeting will be held that night.

Hon. H. O. Thomas, the chairman of the territorial republican central committee, came in from Santa Fe last night and continued until this morning.

DR. BRIGGS FOUND HIS PONY

(From Wednesday's Daily Citizen.)

Dr. H. B. Briggs admitted himself a new knight ago as a man of great nerve and courage, but the doctor is no more modest than he has been looked upon through the eyes of the people of a confidential friend. Several weeks ago the doctor lost a gray pony, and with the pony went a saddle and bridle. The officers of the law were notified, but it seems to no result. However, the doctor had not given up finding the missing creature and kept his eyes peeled for gray ponies. One night while going home late from the store he saw a gray pony, with a Mexican on its back. There was something familiar about this gray pony, and the doctor hailed a passing hack and went in his pursuit. He drove close up to the unassuming native, and there enough the gray was his lost steed. The hack stopped and the doctor stepped from it and grabbed the bridle of his gray.

"This is my horse," he shouted, "get off from there, you scoundrel!" and got him," is reported to have been the doctor's greeting to the natives, for there were two of them. But the number made no difference to the doctor. He had his horse and intended to keep him. The natives fled off the gray and mounted on their horses, and the doctor rode away. Now the doctor goes around with his eye peeled for his saddle.

NOW FOR FOOTBALL

THE FIRST STEP TOWARD FOOTBALL IN ALBUQUERQUE WAS TAKEN LAST NIGHT.

(From Wednesday's Daily Citizen.)

A. A. A., meaning the Albuquerque Athletic association, is the insignia under which Albuquerque will go in quest for honors on the gridiron this season.

Twenty young men, and a very big lot they appeared to be, met last evening at the sporting goods store of Frank J. Houston on Gold street and organized for football. Houston was selected manager. Ward Anderson was chosen coach. Manager Houston reported that he had received communications from Santa Fe and the Menaul school, thought that probably a game could be secured on the Athletic park (iron for next Saturday. There was talk of a game here Thanksgiving with the A. & M. college team of Santa Fe, and this may be brought about. The only interference which might be brought into such would be objection from the New Mexico Athletic association, which was organized at Santa Fe last year, and this could probably be overcome by the fact that the A. A. A. is the only member of this frat organization who has a football team this year. Manager Houston said that he would in communication with the Menaul school organization and it is hoped the result will be the closing of some. It was decided that a meeting would be held this evening at the place and practice begun immediately. The several footballists met at Monday night's meeting, please meet at Mr. Houston's Friday night.

Mr. Montgomery, recently coach of the University of Pennsylvania, has agreed to coach the A. A. A. team, and great results are anticipated. Mr. Montgomery attended the meeting last night and lost his shoe assistance in making the organization.

MARTIN AND PHIPPS WEDDING

(From Wednesday's Daily Citizen.)

Tulane, Nov. 2.—At Beaufort, North Carolina, the wedding was celebrated today of Miss Helen M. Phipps, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phipps, Jr., and Mr. Bradley Martin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, formerly of New York. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Sheehan, and was attended by many guests of prominence in the social world. Mr. Phipps, the bridegroom, is the son of the bridegroom, and the bride is the daughter of the bridegroom. The wedding was a very simple one, and the bride wore a gown of plain white satin, partially veiled in rare old lace, the gift of Mrs. Bradley Martin and Mrs. Phipps.

New York, Nov. 2.—Bradley Martin, Jr., who was married today to Miss Helen Phipps, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, of Baltimore, formerly of this city. He was one of three children. The oldest son, Sherman Martin, died some years ago, and the daughter is the wife of the Earl of Craven.

Bradley Martin is a serious youth. He has written considerable for the English and American reviews, and there has been talk of late of his intention to enter political life in England.

Miss Helen Phipps, the bride, is the younger of the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phipps, Jr. The other children consist of the oldest daughter and three sons—Henry, Carnegie R. and Howard. The Phippses have a town house in East Fifty-sixth street, this city. One of the sons married a daughter of Michael P. Grace.

WILLIAM PUCK IS HELD FOR HORSE STEALING

OKAYE CLIFFORD RECOVERS HIS HORSE AND ALLEGED THIEF IS UNDER ARREST.

(From Wednesday's Daily Citizen.) Okaye Clifford, the cabman, has recovered his horse, which was stolen from him last Sunday night, and a man who gives his name as William Puck is in the county jail awaiting the meeting of the grand jury.

Puck was arrested at Sandoval yesterday just after he had disposed of the horse and saddle to a saloon keeper of that place for $20. In Judge Crawford's court this morning he pleaded not guilty and told a story, which if found to be true, will prove a substantial alibi. Puck says that he spent Saturday night and a greater part of Sunday at Bernalillo. Sunday afternoon he walked to Sandoval and Sunday night, the night the horse was stolen, he spent at a native's house near Sandoval. He claims that he bought the horse from a man he met on the road between this city and Sandoval, and gave the man in exchange a watch and four dollars. He got on the horse and rode about twenty rods, when he met the saloon keeper of Sandoval, to whom he sold the horse and saddle. A couple of boys who were returning from hunting saw the horse and saddle at the saloon in Sandoval and recognized it as Clifford's hack horse. Sheriff Hubbell was telegraphed here and a deputy was dispatched to Sandoval to make the arrest, which was done with very little trouble. Puck was brought to the city by a deputy sheriff, and Tom Jackson and Antonio Stewart, the latter two hunters. Puck is alleged to have told various stories as to how he came in possession of the horse, and the officers believe that his alibi story will

LEW H. SHOEMAKER HAS DISAPPEARED

WAS LAST SEEN MONDAY NIGHT AND WIFE ANXIOUS ABOUT HIS WHEREABOUTS.

(From Wednesday's Daily Citizen.) Lew H. Shoemaker, who conducts a second hand business at No. 335 West Gold street, was mysteriously disappeared from this city, and his present whereabouts are unknown to his family.

Yesterday The Citizen was informed by Mr. Shoemaker's attorney from his home, but tonight he would appear up today, hence this paper did not give the news yesterday. He is still absent, and Mrs. Shoemaker is deeply distressed. The body was seen by The Citizen representative this afternoon, and was interviewed as follows:

"On Monday," said the lady, "Mr. Shoemaker and I were out for a walk in the afternoon, and in the afternoon he told me he would call at the First National Bank and pay $100 on a note we were holding. During the day he did a splendid business, and he seemed unusually cheerful, but although I saw the death of his nephew, Lew P. Shoemaker, last May, he showed signs of despondency and really was depressed. Monday evening, at about 9:30 o'clock, he remarked to me he would go out and see about a show case that he had in mind. This was the last time I saw him, and I have the result, although friends have called and expressed the belief that, during an aberration of the mind, he has left the city and would soon be located from all right."

"I understand from the bank that Mr. Shoemaker did not pay the $100 on the note, and I think in consequence he may have had at least $150 with him on Monday night."

"Another thing which distresses me is the fact that he suffered from a tumor of the right side of his head, and that, sooner or later, he would be incapacitated from active work and business. He is nearly sixty years of age, and we came to this city about six years ago, since then he has been in the city, and he has been very anxious to sell and the next day equally anxious not to sell, hence his changeable disposition forced me to believe that he was suffering from some disorder of the mind."

The question was asked Mrs. Shoemaker if any family quarrel could be traced to the disappearance of her husband, and she remarked that outside of a little difference of opinion which would occasionally occur in the transaction of business, they lived happily together as any married couple could possibly live, and she therefore scouted the idea that her husband had disappeared on her account.

It is known that Mr. Shoemaker was seen at the depot Monday night about 1 o'clock, and the informant says that he appeared in a dejected state of mind. If he intended to leave the city, he could have left for either the north or west that night, as the trains were late.

Mrs. Shoemaker has consulted Attorney Ferguson, from whom the building occupied by her is rented, and the attorney has advised Mrs. Shoemaker to continue the business until some definite information is heard of his whereabouts of her husband.

"TWO LITTLE WAIFS"

This play is one of the most successful ever written and staged by Lincoln J. Carter, and will be seen at the Elks' Opera House for one night on Nov. 9. It is without doubt one of the most stirring plays that will be seen here this season. The story itself is full of strong heart interest. The villain, in order to win the love of another man's wife, breaks up the home and kidnaps one of the children. The mother is reduced to abject poverty, but in her direct refusal aid from the man who brought trouble at the door of her home by his base plotting. The piece is full of pathos and tears but is not without some good comedy.

Two little waifs, a boy and a girl, are the central figures in the play. They are the children of a poor man who has been driven from his home by the villain. They are found by a kind-hearted man who takes them into his home and raises them as his own children. The play is a story of love, sacrifice and redemption.

TEAMSTER DROPS DEAD

BODY BROUGHT HERE BY ASSOCIATES AND BURIED THIS MORNING.

David Tyler, age forty-three years and apparently in good health, started to work with his team for the American Lumber company in the Zuni mountains at 7 o'clock Monday morning. The air was crisp and Tyler seemed cheerful and unburdened with care and whistled merrily as he passed.

IGNORANT OF THE SIGNALS

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—Possibly there may have been a misunderstanding of signals during the traveler incident in the North sea is suggested by the fact made public in order of the day issued by Vice Admiral Choukai, commander of the Black sea squadron, which records the fact that the officers of the latter fleet are so unfamiliar with the new code system adopted by the admiralty, that during a recent maneuver not a single ship understood or obeyed the admiral's signals.

INVITATION FOR NEW MEXICO DAY

having proved impracticable to send special invitations to the thousands and thousands of New Mexico citizens who about this time are invited, the board hereby, through the public press, extends this general invitation to all the people of the territory who can make it convenient to attend and assures all such that they will be received with the greatest pleasure and cheerfully and that the board will be greatly gratified and truly thankful to them for their attendance and cooperation on this, in the sunshine territory, a very important celebration. Desiring and trusting that this invitation will be accepted by as many of the people as can possibly find the time to attend, we remain with profound respect,

The New Mexico Board of Managers of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

NEW DANCING ACADEMY

ELKS' HALL LEASED TO PROFESSOR L. E. BUTTRICK.

Sunday Professor L. E. Buttrick arrived in the city and has secured Elks' hall for the season, and will open a dancing academy, all of which will be good news to the dance-loving public of this city. Professor and Mrs. Buttrick have been teaching at several cities in this part of the country and come here highly recommended, not only as dancing instructors, but refined and trustworthy people, having the confidence of the public where they are best known. Professor Buttrick is a member of the International Association and he with his wife, attended the Dancing Masters' convention at Cleveland, Ohio, this summer. He teaches the latest dances and has the latest system of teaching, so that after a short term at his academy a dancer is as much at home on a dance floor in any city they visit as they would be in Albuquerque. This is one good advantage in receiving instruction from a member of the association.

Professor and Mrs. Buttrick have just closed a very successful season at Trinidad. The papers of that city speak in the very highest terms of them. Professor Buttrick will give his opening dance in Elks' hall, Wednesday night of this week.

"They have their own piano player with them, who is trained in dance music, and we predict a most successful and enjoyable season here."

ANGLO-RUSSIAN CONVENTION

London, Nov. 4.—Regarding reports of the completion of the Anglo-Russian convention, the foreign office this afternoon reiterates that while an agreement in principle appears to have been reached regarding the form and scope of the international commission nothing has yet been settled, and nothing can be definitely settled by the authorities until St. Petersburg has opportunity to examine the text of the draft made by the convention, which is expected to arrive tonight.

SANTA FE HARD HIT BY FLOODS

MANAGEMENT CONTEMPLATES THE OUTLAY OF LARGE SUMS IN SOUTHWEST TO PREVENT REPETITION OF DISASTERS.

Notwithstanding the fact that the floods in New Mexico and vicinity played such havoc with the Santa Fe railroad system, plans for the expenditure of thousands of dollars the coming year are now being made, and it is probable that the amount invested in improving the system will exceed that of the year just closed, says the Denver News.

General Manager H. F. Mudge is a busy man, but he finds time to make regular trips to Denver. He spent yesterday here in his official capacity, arriving from his home in Topeka in the morning and leaving again last night.

"The year has been unusually disastrous for the Santa Fe," said Mr. Mudge last evening, "but the road has practically recovered from the most recent trouble, the floods in the southwest, and the trains in that vicinity are again running practically on the schedule time."

"What those washouts will cost the road in money I am unable to state at present. In all about 600 miles of road was affected, and in the worst places temporary tracks have been built. The chief engineer is now making surveys, and it is probable that numerous changes will be made when the system is permanently repaired. It is therefore almost impossible to say what it will cost to repair the damage."

"During the coming year the road will probably spend a good deal of money in general improvements, and work on the budget to be presented to the president the first of January is now under way. Of course the recommendations made may not be carried out, but I understand it is the idea to put a good deal of money into the system."

"During the year just closing much work has been done, especially along the line of ballasting, bridge work and the laying of heavy rails. And we will not have to put any money into motive power the coming year, quite an item in itself, as we have but recently purchased 129 of the finest locomotives that can be bought."

"Work of laying the double track between Kansas City and Newton is going ahead as rapidly as can be expected, and it may be completed during the coming year. The distance to be covered is 184 miles, and already 112 miles of the road have been equipped, leaving but seventy-two miles."

"I understand that the foundation of the new union station at El Paso is now in progress of construction, and I think the contract calls for the completion of the building within a year. The structure will cost $275,000, and will be utilized by the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Texas & Pacific, El Paso & Southwestern, El Paso & Northwestern and Mexican Central."

Mr. Mudge said his visit to Denver at this time was one in connection with routine business and had no special significance.

At Magdalena this morning an open air meeting took place before several hundred on the main street. The speeches were warmly applauded and the candidate was given an ovation as the train left for Socorro.

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY AT SOCORRO

THE CAMPAIGN PARTY, HEADED BY GOVERNOR OTERO AND SENATOR ANDREWS, HELD BIG MEETING.

Special to The Citizen. Socorro, N. M., Nov. 2.—Republican rallies were held today in Socorro county by the campaign party, headed by Governor Otero and Senator Andrews, regular republican candidates for delegate to congress. Without doubt Socorro county will cast its vote for the straight ticket, and from today's reception it will tell a heavier vote for Andrews than any given a similar candidate in the past.

At Magdalena this morning an open air meeting took place before several hundred on the main street. The speeches were warmly applauded and the candidate was given an ovation as the train left for Socorro.

In the evening at Socorro the immense court house was packed two hours before the time of meeting. The city was one mass of red, white and blue. A vacation was declared by implied consent. Governor Otero, Senator Andrews and Colonel Prichard addressed over a thousand people. It was the most demonstrative meeting held for years in this vicinity. The reception at the close of the meeting lasted an hour, over 100 shaking hands with the chief executive of the territory and the candidate.

SITUATION IN SAN MIGUEL COUNTY

COLONEL TWITCHELL SAYS SENTIMENT HAS CHANGED FOR COLONEL ANDREWS.

Colonel Twitchell came in from Gallup this morning. When asked about the political situation in his home county of San Miguel, he said:

"So far as the ordinary country products are concerned no one can form any estimate as to the strength of the fusion and straight republican tickets. It is up to us to go one way or the other by small majorities. In the town of Las Vegas the republican ticket, headed by Colonel Andrews, will win, by not less than 100 majority in the three precincts comprising the town. In the city of Las Vegas, precinct 29, in which there will be polled upward of nine hundred votes, Roder will receive about fifty. Money about four hundred and fifty, and Colonel Andrews about four hundred votes. Sentiment in the city of Las Vegas has changed so far as money is concerned and Andrews will receive within 5 per cent of the full republican strength. The city is very close at any election."

READY FOR PIMICO MEETING

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1.—What promises to be one of the greatest meetings in the history of the Maryland Jockey club opens at the old Pimlico track tomorrow. It will continue seven days. Never has there been such an abundance of high-class horses on hand, and the jockey talent is of the very best. A half dozen good stakes are to be run during the meeting, and ample cashing will be an additional feature of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Huchel, of the Harvey news and curio system, arrived this morning from a trip to the coast and to the Grand Canyon.
